Dear Sir,

In the Look serialization of William Manchester's book there appears the statement that on the afternoon of November 21, 1963, your paper printed a map of the route to be taken the following day by the Presidential motorcade.

My recollection of the Warren Report is that it did not state you printed such a map in this issue. It does say (page 40) that, "On November 19, the Times-Herald afternoon paper detailed the precise route", which it then appears to quote.

If your paper on the afternoon of November 21, 1963 did print a map of the motorcade route, I would like to know of it and, if possible, obtain a copy.

The Library of Congress does not keep your paper on file. I have checked there.

If there is any cost, please let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Harold Weisberg
